Erland, in collaboration with Imai Keller Moore, returned to The Fessenden School for another renovation, refreshing 8,000 square feet of Bernon Hall. The project included upgrades to the lobby and corridor spaces with new lighting, carpeting, terrazzo flooring in the main lobby, millwork cubbies, and fresh paint. Scheduled as a fast-track summer renovation, the work was completed in just 10 weeks—ensuring the space was ready before students returned in the fall.

One of the paramount considerations throughout this endeavor was the minimization of disruptions to The Fessenden School's ongoing summer programs. Recognizing the importance of maintaining an active campus, Erland meticulously planned and executed each phase of the project with utmost care and precision, ensuring that students, campers, and staff could continue their activities without interference.

This marked Erland's sixth collaboration with The Fessenden School.
