

Stitzer YMCA Center at Springfield College / Springfield, Massachusetts

Owner:
Springfield College

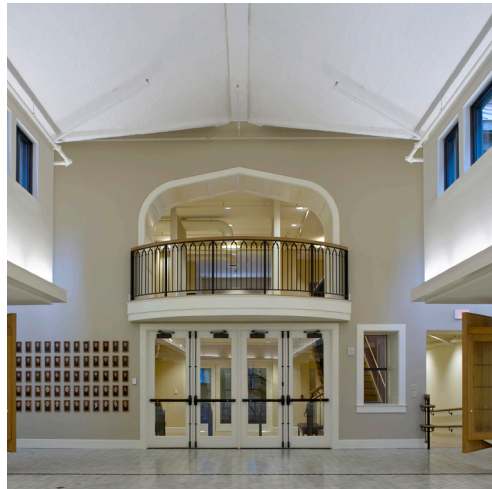

Architect:
Stephen Jablonski Architects

Area:
39,350sf

Duration:
8 Months

Type:
Renovation

Awards:
2010 Preservation Award,
Adaptive Re-Use Preservation
Massachusetts

Teaming with Stephen Jablonski Architects, Erland performed renovations to Judd Gymnasium – the oldest building on Springfield’s campus and home to the original YMCA center. The rehab of this 125-year old building is now known as the Stitzer YMCA Center.

The 39,350 square foot building received a total makeover, including a complete overhaul of the HVAC and MEP systems. A new entrance and elevator make it handicap accessible.

It is home to a museum of the college’s history, the YMCA Hall of Fame, the Office of YMCA Relations, YMCA club recreational programs, the college archives, and multi-purpose space.

This project marks the third time Erland has worked on the Springfield College campus.